Executive Summary

Foremost Brewing Cooperative is an exciting opportunity for a large number of civic-minded people to directly invest in the revitalization of downtown Owatonna while personally receiving social and financial returns.

Foremost Brewing will be a restaurant, bar, and craft beer brewery that will provide guests in Owatonna, MN with an upscale, casual, beer-centric dining experience featuring locally-produced craft beers paired with fresh, gourmet pub food using locally sourced ingredients.

As a brewpub and a cooperative, Foremost Brewing is statistically poised for long term success. While 60% of restaurants close within 3 years of opening, only 40% of the 3,269 brewpubs that have opened in the past 38 years have closed. Similarly, while only 5% of traditional businesses are still operating after 5 years, 90% of cooperatives are still operating after 5 years.

"Forged in Community" is a guiding principle that will set Foremost Brewing apart from all other establishments in the area and provide a competitive advantage. Foremost Brewing Cooperative is the result of local people coming together to achieve a common goal of making Owatonna a more desirable place to live and visit by creating, from the ground up, what will become a local treasure and community pillar. Through the cooperative business model, Foremost Brewing will continue to engage the community through democratic control and direction by its members.

Organized under Chapter 308B of Minnesota Statutes, Foremost Brewing Cooperative is formed for the benefit of its members and is based on the values of self-help, selfresponsibility, democracy, equality, equity, and solidarity. Its members believe in the ethical value of honesty, openness, social responsibility, ecological responsibility, and caring for others.

There are two classes of members. Patron Members join the cooperative with the intent of consuming products produced by the cooperative. Refunds (dividends) are received on the basis of business done with the cooperative. The Patron Member investment is $150 for an individual and $250 for a household (two adults living together). Non-patron Members own a membership interest and receive investment returns in proportion to their share of the investment. Non-patron Member investment levels for non-accredited investors are between $750 and $10,000. Members that hold both a Patron Membership and a Non-patron Membership are referred to as "Patron Plus" members.

Foremost Brewing will be located at 224 North Cedar, on the corner of Cedar Avenue and Pearl Street in Owatonna, MN. The building will be owned by Foremost Properties, LLC and leased to Foremost Brewing under a 10-year triple-net lease agreement. Foremost Properties is a local company that was organized for the exclusive purpose of restoring and renovating the building and leasing it to the Foremost Brewing Cooperative. This arrangement provides stability for Foremost Brewing. Anticipated start-up costs, including funds for working capital and contingency are $535,000. We anticipate that the funding sources will be: $90,000 equity funding from patron members, $320,000 equity funding from non-patron members, and $125,000 in loans from members and the Southern Minnesota Initiative Foundation.

Sales projection assume a modest 890 customers per week resulting in sales of approximately $14,500 per week, or $750,000 per year. Cashflow before taxes is expected to be approximately 9% of sales during the first five years of operation. Annual return on investment for Non-patron Members is anticipated to be 12-15% after the first two years of operations, while dividends for Patron Members are anticipated to be 5-6% of purchases.

In closing, we believe the business plan for Foremost Brewing represents a realistic expectation of success, and we ask that you join us in making this investment in our shared future.

Section 1 – The Brewpub Advantage

The basic concept of the brewpub, pairing beer and food made onsite, is neither new nor particularly novel—taverns have been making their own beer for centuries. Even so, the modern crop of American brewpubs has managed to put a new spin on the concept of beer and food, and in doing so have created economic value that extends beyond the two components independent from each other.

That value can be seen clearly in the historical success rate of brewpubs. Since the Brewers Association started tracking in 1980 through 2017, 3,269 brewpubs opened in the United States and only 1,3011 closed. That calculates to a historical success rate of 60 percent (a bit inflated by the faster-than-usual opening rate the last few years). In contrast, a study at Ohio State found that 60 percent of restaurants close in a three-year period<sup>1</sup>.

To restate, 60 percent of restaurants close in the first three years, whereas only 40 percent of the 3,269 brewpubs that have opened in the past 38 years have closed. That type of disjuncture can only occur when there is something fundamentally different about the categories in question.

It's worth noting up front that some of the advantages of brewpubs stem from their ability as the manufacturer to sell a high-value-added product (aka beer) at better margins than a typical restaurant. In the latest Brewery Operations and Benchmarking Survey, smaller brewpubs (fewer than 1,000 barrels) derived 26.8 percent of their sales from house beers, and larger brewpubs (more than 1,000 barrels) derived 46.3 percent of their sales from house beers. In 2010, those percentages were closer to 35 percent for both groups. Regardless of the specific percentage, that means roughly a third of sales stems from a product that averages gross margins that can reach more than $800 per barrel depending on the business model and beer style.

These benefits don't come without risk. Brewpubs are betting heavily on their ability to sell their own beers, and not surprisingly, typically have a much lower percentage of their sales come from guest beers and other bar sales. Most people come to brewpubs looking to try the house beers, so if those beers don't meet the ever-increasing quality standards, there may be challenges. In addition, running a brewery inside a restaurant requires additional capital, expertise, staff, and more. So, brewpubs are a step beyond the average restaurant on the classic risk-reward scale, with more invested, but greater potential benefits. Given this basic tradeoff, what are the additional advantages that have allowed so many brewpubs to keep that balance firmly pointed toward reward?

Exclusive Experiences

The American beer lover craves variety and novel beer experiences. The on-premise is where this experimental spirit is the strongest. In a recent Nielsen survey commissioned by the Brewers Association<sup>2</sup>, a majority (51 percent) of craft beer drinkers said that when selecting a beer to order at a restaurant or bar, it was very or somewhat important that "it's a craft beer product that I have not tried before." Brewpubs have a tremendous advantage in this regard, in that not only can they serve whatever they can think up, they can also choose to have exclusive rights to that beer, offering the beer lover a novel experience they can't get anywhere else.

Complementary DNA

In the same Nielsen survey, 71 percent of craft beer purchasers gave "complements my meal" as a very or somewhat important selection criteria in their beer choice. More than ever, beer lovers are thinking beer and food pairing, and in increasingly sophisticated ways. Pairing beer with food is in the DNA of brewpubs, and they have additional advantages in their ability to create beers with specific pairings in mind, use special ingredients like spent grains to enhance the pairing experience, and more easily integrate beer throughout the menu development and cooking process. This isn't to say that a restaurant can't accomplish many of these components; it's simply that brewpubs are more likely to do it as a part of their natural process.

Built-in Beer Knowledge

A recent CraftBeer.com survey of its readers asked them to decide among the "5 Cardinal Sins" of beer service. While several sins rose to the top (including limited diversity on the beer list and dirty beer lines), the number one response was "unknowledgeable servers," with 27 percent of respondents picking that as their biggest red flag. While there's nothing about brewpubs that makes servers inherently more knowledgeable, the reservoir of brewing knowledge, presence of a brewing culture, and physical presence of brewing makes training staff more accessible.

Section 2 – The Cooperative Advantage

A cooperative is a specialized form of business. Having more in common with a traditional business than, say, a nonprofit organization, a cooperative distinguishes itself by a member ownership, benefits, and control model which puts power in the hands of the customers rather than a single owner or small group of partners. More than 47,000 cooperatives operate in the United States alone, boasting more than 100 million member-owners. To begin understanding how cooperatives differ from traditional businesses, it helps to first look at who owns the assets.

Ownership

Traditional businesses concentrate the power of ownership in a single individual or a small group of partners. This idea is turned completely on its head with the cooperative model, where every customer is a member and every member a part owner. Cooperative member owners share equally in control of the organization. They meet regularly to analyze operations reports and elect members from among themselves to a board that hires administrators to tend to day-to-day operations.

Control

It would be hasty to equate cooperative members directly to shareholders in a traditional company. A single person can seize control of a stock-issuing company by buying a majority of shares, thus gaining superior voting power. With a cooperative, no member can buy or control the share of another. Each member has equal voting power and decisions must be made in conjunction with the wishes of the majority. Power truly rests in the hands of lowest common denominator -- the customer.

Benefits

Most traditional businesses operate with the primary goal of turning a profit. There's nothing wrong with that, but a cooperative offers benefits to members that go beyond that. By pooling their money, a group of like-minded individuals can form a cooperative that offers higher quality products at lower prices. That's increased buying power in action. But beyond simple monetary rewards, a cooperative allows individuals to have a direct say in business operations, something often lacking in the retail world in general.

Considerations

Often, a business begins as an idea in the head of a single person, who then runs with it. A cooperative might be similar in the very beginning, but soon diverges because it requires a group of people with similar goals and needs to band together in order to progress the idea. One way to think about the differences between traditional businesses and cooperatives is that the first puts capital at the center of the model while the other places people there.

Startup Success

Cooperative businesses have lower failure rates than traditional corporations and small businesses, after the first year of startup, and after 5 years in business. About 10% of cooperatives fail after the first year while 60-80% of traditional businesses fail after the first year. After 5 years, 90% of cooperatives are still in business, while only 3 - 5% of traditional businesses are still operating after 5 years. This is often because of the many people involved in starting a cooperative and the high level of community support for cooperatives (World Council of Credit Unions study in Williams 2007).

Improving Communities

Cooperative businesses stabilize communities because they are community-based business anchors; and distribute, recycle, and multiply local expertise and capital within a community. They pool limited resources to achieve a critical mass. They enable their owners to generate income, and jobs, and accumulate assets; provide affordable, quality goods and services; and develop human and social capital, as well as economic independence (Gordon Nembhard 2002, 2004b, 2008a, 2014; Fairbairn et al 1991; Logue and Yates 2005; WAGES no date; Yes! Magazine 2013). In addition, co-op enterprises and their members pay taxes, and are good citizens by giving donations to their communities, paying their employees fairly, and using sustainable practices (Gordon Nembhard 2013; Iowa Association of Electrical Co-ops. 2011).

Cooperative Brewing

Foremost Brewing is not the first to recognize the synergy inherent in community brewing and the cooperative business model. Black Star Co-op became the first cooperatively owned craft brewer when it opened its doors in Austin, TX in 2010 after raising $500,000 from its members.

Black Star has inspired and assisted a number of other efforts across the country. As of this writing, there are at least 18 cooperatives in operation or in the planning stages in the U.S.:

Open for Business 4th Tap (Austin, TX) Artisan Beverage Cooperative (Greenfield, MA) Bathtub Row Brewing Co-op (Los Alamos, MN) Black Star Co-op (Austin, TX) Bluetick Brewery (Maryville, TN) Broken Clock Brewing (Minneapolis, MN) Cherry Street Brewing Cooperative (Cumming, GA) Fair State Brewing Cooperative (Minneapolis, MN) Fifth Street Brewpub (Dayton, OH) Flying Bike Cooperative Brewery (Seattle, WA)

In Planning Stages

The Seven Cooperative Principles

Co-ops worldwide share a common creed. They share a fundamental respect for all human beings and a belief in people's capacity to improve themselves economically and socially through mutual help. This basic philosophy has been developed into a list of seven principles:

- 1. Open and voluntary membership Co-ops are open to all who can make use of their services and are willing to accept the responsibilities involved.
- 2. Member economic participation Members provide the basic capital (money) to start and operate the co-op. If co-ops pay dividends to their member-owners, the rate must be limited. Surplus, or profit, resulting from operations belongs to the members and they control how it will be distributed. If a co-op's surplus is returned to members, it is distributed in proportion to the amount of business each member has conducted with the cooperative.
- 3. Democratic member controls All co-op members have equal voting and decisionmaking power in the governance of the business, on the basis of one vote per member.
- 4. Autonomy and Independence Cooperatives are independent, self-help organizations controlled by their members. They limit the influence of outside agencies or business partners to ensure their independence.
- 5. Education, training, and information Co-ops have an obligation to educate members about cooperative business. This mandate also encompasses educating the general public, young people, and community leaders about the nature and benefits of cooperation.
- 6. Cooperation among cooperatives To bring the theory of working together full circle, co-ops recognize the vital importance of working with other co-ops—locally, regionally, nationally, and internationally. Through these efforts, co-ops try to help each other—to strengthen their economic positions and to contribute to the co-op movement.
- 7. Concern for community While member needs are their primary concern, cooperatives also work for the sustainable development of their communities.

Additionally, the International Co-operative Alliance (ICA) defines the standards by which all co-ops should operate:

Cooperatives are based on the values of self-help, self-responsibility, democracy, equality, equity, and solidarity. In the tradition of their founders, cooperative members believe in the ethical values of honesty, openness, social responsibility, and caring for others.

Section 3 – The Concept

Overview

Foremost Brewing is a restaurant, bar, and craft beer brewery that will provide guests in Owatonna, MN with an upscale, casual, beer-centric dining experience featuring locally-produced craft beers paired with fresh, gourmet pub food using locally sourced ingredients.

In addition to brewing better beer, Foremost Brewing will offer an alternative to the typical bar scene by providing great beer in a comfortable atmosphere which lends itself to drinking responsibly. Foremost Brewing will provide a distinct alternative to the choices presently available in Owatonna and will appeal especially to people reacting against the impersonal nature of large corporations and mass production.

Unique Selling Proposition

"Forged in Community" is a guiding principle that will set Foremost Brewing apart from all other establishments in the area. It will be the place where local professionals hang out and visitors put on their "must experience" list. Foremost Brewing will pay tribute to Owatonna's rich history and celebrate its vibrant future. Not only will customers be able to enjoy delicious food and beverage in an authentically local brewhouse; they will be able to say they own the place!

Business Hours

When guests enter, they will feel welcomed into a beloved community gathering place housed in a historic building with a rustic-industrial décor. They will experience a vibrant, energetic-yet-relaxed atmosphere, exceptional service and hospitality, and extraordinary food and drink.

They will see the brewing equipment prominently displayed and notice that it is clean, welllighted, and modern looking. At certain times, they may see the brewers fastidiously working to produce the next batch of delicious, local brew. Guests will easily identify the wait staff by the matching polo shirts worn and they will soon learn that every staff member they encounter is knowledgeable about the beer.

They will leave in a mood better than when they arrived and feel a sense of satisfaction for supporting this community treasure.

Menu and Signature Items

The food menu will be intentionally small and will be rotated seasonally to keep the choices interesting for loyal, returning guests. The seasonally rotating menu will also provide opportunities to market new menu offerings which will be available for a limited time. We will specialize in unique appetizers, toasted sandwiches, fresh salads, and flatbread style pizzas.

The beers brewed at Foremost Brewing will evolve over time based in response to our members' preferences and input. In the beginning, we will focus primarily on traditional styled ales such as India Pale Ale, American Pale Ale, Cream Ale, Dry Irish Stout and Belgian Golden Ale. Experimental styles might include Kettle Soured Ales, Fruit-Nuanced Hazy IPA's and beers using experimental hop breeds. Seasonal beers may include Winter Warmers (spiced Holiday Ale), Russian Imperial Stouts and American Wheat Beers. Foremost Brewing Cooperative will also have the ability to occasionally brew German Lagers such as Bock, Maibock and Oktoberfest.

In time, we will have a core group of mainstays which customers can expect to always be on tap. Rotating taps will include our patrons' favorite beers from craft breweries located in Minnesota, Iowa, and Wisconsin. There will always be at least one beer inspired by one of our members on tap.

Section 4 – The Organizational Team

Several talented and dedicated people are working to bring this vision to reality. Members of the interim board of directors are:

Roger Warehime – Chair

As an Owatonna Forward Steward and team leader of the Public Input Team, Roger Warehime repeatedly heard Owatonna citizens express their desire to see a brewpub come to downtown as well as see downtown revitalized. He, along with fellow stewards Reid Stranksy and Seth Madole, envisioned a grass-roots, citizenlead initiative to create a cooperatively-owned brewpub. Since January 2017, Roger has been involved in all aspects of bringing the vision to reality including extensive research, planning, and organizing of activities.

Roger Warehime holds a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Minnesota and an MBA from St. Thomas University. He has been employed at Owatonna Public Utilities for 14 years and is currently the Director of Field Operations. Throughout his career, he has gained extensive experience in leading and managing a variety of teams and projects.

John Deranek – Vice Chair

John Deranek moved to Owatonna from the Twin Cities in the summer of 2015. He graduated from Pharmacy School at the University of Minnesota in 2005 and has spent over 10 years managing different pharmacies across Minneapolis and the Twin Cities. John has been an amateur home brewer for over 10 years brewing a variety of beers and ciders.

Sue Tuma – Financial Officer

Sue Tuma was born and raised in Owatonna, left for Minneapolis and Chicago for a few years, and has been back in her beloved hometown for 30 years. She retired early from Truth Hardware three years ago and has been devoting a good amount of her time to getting Foremost Brewing up and running over the past year or so. She is an inactive-licensed CPA and has worked in accounting and finance her entire life. She is an Owatonna Arts Center board member and has served on the United Way Grant Review Panel for the past four years.

Sue and her husband Tom love to visit new breweries and brewpubs and have over 80 notches on their "beer-post" to date, most of which are located in Minnesota. Sue & Tom have two adult sons still living at home, Dylan and Ryan.

Molly Kerr – Records Officer

Molly Kerr received her Bachelor of Science in Music Industry with a minor in Marketing from Minnesota State University, Mankato. # Section 6 – The Market Analysis

Craft Brewing Industry

There are four distinct craft beer industry market segments: brewpubs, microbreweries, regional craft breweries and contract brewing companies. Foremost Brewing Cooperative will fall under the brewpub market segment.

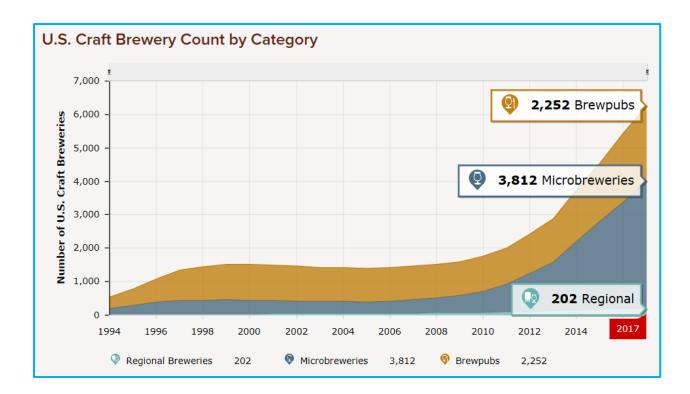

A brewpub is a restaurant-brewery that sells 25 percent or more of its beer on site. The beer is brewed primarily for sale in the restaurant and bar. The beer is often dispensed directly from the brewery's storage tanks. In Minnesota, brewpubs may sell beer "to go" and may sell beer from other breweries (as well as wine and spirits) on premise.

Craft Brewing Industry Growth

While the growth in the craft beer industry over the past few years has been nothing short of phenomenal, in many respects it has really just been a return to our roots. In 1873, there were 4,131 breweries operating in the United States. The decline of breweries began in 1892 when "cork crown" was patented. Beer could now be bottled and shipped reliably, and by 1910 only 1,568 breweries remained. The decline continued with Prohibition, and by 1930 there were only 231 operating breweries. Upon repeal of Prohibition, thirty-eight states (including Minnesota) adopted the 3-tier distribution system (manufacturerdistributor-retailer), making it illegal for the manufacturer to also be the retailer. The brewpub became history.

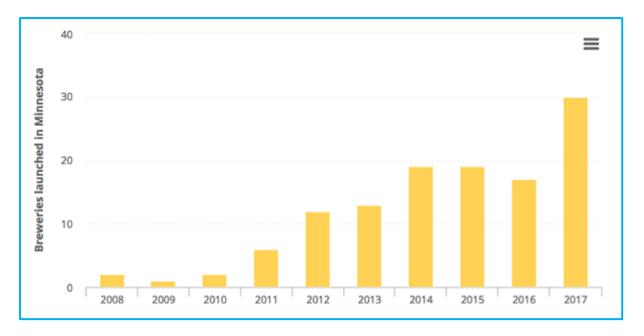

In 1982 the legislature in the state of Washington approved a bill allowing a brewery to sell beer directly to the customer in a restaurant environment; the brewpub was reborn. Laws in other states were soon updated. Now, small scale "microbreweries" and "brewpubs" are reviving a cherished and historic tradition, the brewing of specialty beers. In 1983 there were only 12 microbreweries and brewpubs in the United States; just 35 years later in 2017 there are more than 6,000!

Of the 150 breweries open in Minnesota, 30 of them opened in 2017. Of these 30 breweries, the majority were located outside of the Twin Cities metro. This was a departure from 2016 when about half of the 17 breweries that opened were located in the metro.

Source: Growler, MNBeer.com

Although Minnesota has seen growth in its craft beer scene, it is far from being a brewsaturated state. In 2015, Minnesota ranked 14th for breweries per capita, with 2.7 for every 100,000 residents over age 21. Despite upping its density of breweries by 0.1, it slipped to 16th in breweries per drinking age capita in 2016.

Target Market

Foremost Brewing Cooperative will target the corporate and working class who appreciate a high-quality beer and dining experience. The average craft beer drinker in America today is aged between 21 and 54. The anticipated age range for the majority of our guests will be between ages 25 and 48 years, with an emphasis on working professionals. The customers we seek will be beer enthusiasts that are looking for a unique dining experience in Owatonna and comfortable with spending $15.00 for an entrée. This target market tends to live in households that have young children and that enjoy spending their free time out in the community.

We are targeting this market specifically because of the of the brewpubs proximity to local companies. Within the downtown area there are approximately 2,000 workers and 1,000 residents. The workforce for Federated Insurance and Jostens are within three blocks of the Foremost Brewing Cooperative location. These two companies help to attract a younger workforce to the downtown area. The Foremost Brewing Cooperative will provide a welcoming space for people to gather after work and on weekends. The brewpub will be an attractive location for both business and family diners by providing a diverse menu with many drink options including soda and wine in addition to the craft beer.

Market Segments

We have identified four distinct market segments.

- 1. Home Brewers A number of home brewers have been involved with the development of Foremost Brewing and will continue to be supportive. This group will be our most discerning group of customers and will value the ability to get involved in the brewing process, educational programs, and information sharing.
- 2. Craft Beer Enthusiasts This rapidly growing segment will be drawn by high quality beer, warm atmosphere, and the ability to sample beers available nowhere else. This group includes out of town visitors who travel the state and region to visit microbreweries and brewpubs. We can count on this group to spread the word through social media, blogs, and craft brewing websites.
- 3. Cooperative Supporters There is a growing segment of people who value "buying local", participatory management, supporting the community, and similar values which the cooperative business model embraces. The opportunity for ownership will be particularly important to this group.
- 4. Couldn't-Care-Less-about-Craft-Beer We acknowledge that not everyone is as excited about craft brewing as we are. Some of these non-enthusiasts will be brought to Foremost Brewing by friends and family. For these folks, we will have available lighter beers, wine, and non-alcoholic beverages. We will also have one brand-name domestic beer on tap.

Competitive Analysis

Foremost Brewing Cooperative will offer an experience that differs greatly from other restaurants in the area. There are 5 restaurants in Owatonna that offer at least 3 craft beers on tap:

- Torey's Restaurant & Bar: 6 craft beers, casual dining experience with a large family friendly menu.
- SpareTime Entertainment: 5 craft beers, bar setting, menu includes: burgers, wraps and pizzas
- Lava Burger and Wings: 5 craft beers, quick food setting with a large variety of burgers and wings
- Black Sheep Burgers and Brew: 12 craft beers, limited seating, menu of burgers and fries
- Wings Tavern and Grille: 5 craft beers, bar setting, menu includes: appetizers, burgers and sandwiches

We are aware of one new restaurant being proposed in the area that will target a similar customer. Torey's Restaurant & Bar will be moving to their new location at 208 North Cedar Avenue in 4th quarter, 2018. They will provide a family dining experience with a space for large events. Torey's new event space will help create extra foot traffic to the downtown area. Wedding reception and other event attendees will be looking for additional places to visit while in the area. Foremost Brewing Cooperative is located a mere half block from Torey's new location and an easy walk. In addition, the location of Foremost Brewing Cooperative will be beneficial to Torey's. We will attract customers from all over Minnesota and Torey's will give our customers an additional place to visit while enjoying downtown Owatonna.

While we recognize that we have some stiff competition from Torey's Restaurant & Bar, we understand that the customer base that we share is relatively large and growing. Foremost Brewing Cooperative will provide costumers an otherwise unfound unique dining experience in Owatonna. By offering beer brewed onsite with food options prepared with local ingredients, the Foremost Brewing Cooperative will provide options that cannot be found anywhere else in Owatonna.

Competitive Strengths and Weaknesses

| STRENGTHS   | WEAKNESSES   |
| Core group of organizers is community minded, of like-mind but with different expertise, and has tenacity.    | Operations managers not yet identified.  |
| The Cooperative model will allow input from members of the community and will give them a sense of ownership. | All major decisions will be made by a vote from the board.   |
| Will be a small menu made from fresh, locally sourced ingredients   | The menu will be seasonal, so customer favorites may not always be available.                      |
| Able to provide a quality product at a fair price.  | Products may be higher in price than some customer are accustomed to paying for beer.              |
| In the heart of downtown Owatonna with many new businesses planned for the area.                              | The building will need major renovations.  |
| A large number of local people have ownership and share in the financial success.                             | It is difficult to obtain loans from traditional lenders because they require personal guarantees. |

Section 7 – The Marketing Strategy

Overview

It almost goes without saying that at the foundation of the marketing strategy is excellent food, drink, and service. While every establishment claims to provide great food, drink, and service, Foremost Brewing will implement operational strategies to assure that these claims are actually true. With the popularity of sites such as Yelp and Trip Advisor, as well as social media in general, "word of mouth" marketing is as important as it has ever been. That said, providing excellent products and service is not enough.

Our marketing strategy has three major phases: 1) initial membership and capital drive, 2) pre-opening buzz, 3) on-going community engagement. The initial phase will focus on sharing the vision and educating potential members about the benefits Foremost Brewing will bring to the community. The second phase will focus on keeping our new members engaged and our Foremost Brewing brand top-of-mind while the build-out occurs. Finally, on-going communication and involvement with the community will be woven into the day-to-day operations and aligned with the seven cooperative principles. Key messages will include the benefits of cooperative ownership, community involvement, local pride and support, fresh taste, and originality.

Educational Programs and Events

Educational events, focusing on beer and brewing, will attract both home brewers and people interested in learning more about how beer is made. Events centering on beer (e.g. food and beer pairings, brewing competitions, etc.) will be aimed at the same groups, while cultural events (e.g. musicians, stand-up comedy, speakers/films on topics of community interest) will appeal to the larger target market.

Foremost Brewing will take advantage of its local presence to tie into all festivals and celebrations, as well as create a few of its own. Special celebration ales will be brewed for most holidays and appropriate tank tapping ceremonies will announce these specialty beers. Foremost Brewing will sponsor the home brewer competition at the Foremost County Free Fair, as well as holding some of its own home-brewing competitions throughout the year.

Promotional Plans

Press and Media Coverage

Although there are two cooperatively-owned breweries in Minnesota, Foremost Brewing will be the first cooperatively-owned brewpub in our state. The uniqueness of the cooperative model as well as being "the first" are factors that lend themselves to media coverage. We will keep our local media aware of key milestones such as our capital offering, building construction start, brewing license received, delivery of brewing equipment and so on. Trade journals and industry-oriented publications (e.g. The Growler) will also be sent press releases.

Social Media

Social media will play a key role in all phases of our marketing strategy. Through Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram we will post events, news, and updates and have contests to encourage more likes and shares to create online buzz.

Website

Initially our website will serve primarily as a landing page to direct potential memberinvestors to and from the Silicon Prairie MNvest Portal. Once we become operational, the website will become more interactive and serve as hub for news and information.

Member Newsletter

Member-owners will be kept up to date on all aspects of our operations through a twicemonthly electronic newsletter.

Member Benefits

A customer loyalty program is essentially baked-in to the cooperative business model. In addition to having a say in the operation of the business and receiving a dividend, members will receive perks such as member-only happy hour pricing, a free pint on their birthday or anniversary, and access to special, member-only events. "Patron Plus" members (members who are both a patron and non-patron member) receive additional perks (See the Offering section for details)

Community Support

"Concern for Community" is the seventh cooperative principal. In addition to encouraging its employees and members to be involved in activities and organizations that support sustainable development of our community, Foremost Brewing will provide financial support to some number of non-profit organizations that will be selected by a committee created for that purpose. For example, a different organization might be highlighted each month. On one day of the month a specified percentage of sales will be donated to the organization and one dollar from each growler sale throughout the month will be donated as well.

Section 8 – The Operational Strategy

Employees

In order to provide a high-touch, quality experience for our guests, Foremost Brewing will need to have a versatile, knowledgeable and skilled staff. Staff will primarily be recruited by referrals and direct recruiting by the general manager. All staff will initially be paid 90% relative to the prevailing wage for their roles and will be eligible for merit raises based on performance after 6 months and then annually. All staff, after one year of employment, will participate in the profit sharing program in which 10% of profits will be distributed amongst the employees of the Foremost Brewing Cooperative.

Foremost Brewing will employee approximately 20 employees, with a full-time-equivalent (FTE) of 8-10 employees. Management will use an effective competency-based interview and on-boarding process.

Because there is usually some error in hiring during the first weeks of any operation, we intend to slightly overstaff initially to account for staff that may not work out, and to make sure we have adequate numbers of trained personnel to provide a strong first impression.

Customer service will be given special emphasis throughout the operation. Training programs will include specific material to teach employees about service attitudes, customer perceptions, and how to deal with guest complaints.

Management Practices and Controls

Management will establish sound operating guidelines by which to conduct the day to day operations. Policies, systems, and procedures will be adopted, documented, and utilized.

The management team will develop detailed operations manuals for front- and back-ofhouse staff. These manuals will be used for training, for ongoing assessment of operations, and will be adapted as the brewpub matures to reflect best practices.

Management controls will include a POS system, scheduling system, operations checklists, order guides, weekly and daily inventory, cash audits, safety reviews, and liability reviews. Administrative systems will include daily cash control, weekly prime cost reporting, purchasing controls, and a bookkeeping service. Financial reports will be generated every four weeks (13 periods per year) rather than monthly; this method provides more consistent reporting periods as there are same number of weekdays and weekends in each reporting period.

Purchasing/Supply Chain Strategy

Our primary brewing ingredient vendor will be Brewer's Supply Group (BSG) located in Shakopee, MN. To the extent possible, we will purchase hops from local hop growers.

Guest beers will be sourced from craft breweries located in Minnesota, northern Iowa, and western Wisconsin. We will also source beer from other cooperatively-owned breweries throughout the country.

We will incorporate and feature in our dishes local food suppliers such as those shown below. This strategy will result in better quality, support of local economies, and marketing appeal.

Section 9 – The Location

The Site & Neighborhood

Foremost Brewing Cooperative will be located at 224 North Cedar Avenue, Owatonna. This site is near the headquarters of Federated Insurance, Jostens, 1 major apartment complex and 2 planned high-end apartment complexes. Foremost Brewing Cooperative's location will also be in walking distance from Owatonna's Central Park. The Central Park is the site of many summer events which include a Thursday night concert series and a Saturday Farmers' Market. Both events attract a large number of people to the downtown area. The downtown is currently undergoing a revitalization with an event space and shop fronts currently in the planning stages.

The total space is 7,346 square feet and has an entrance on Cedar Ave. The space has the following features that are a good fit with the Foremost Brewing Cooperative concept: unique layout, historic building, exposed brick with a seasonal outdoor dining patio. These features will help Foremost Brewing Cooperative be successful because it will provide a space that is unique and cannot be found anywhere else in the Owatonna area.

Proposed Layout

The space will accommodate approximately 110 dining seats on two levels in a total frontof-house area of 3,710 square feet. The back-of-house areas, including kitchen, storage and administrative areas, brew equipment will be a total of 3,636 square feet. The City of Owatonna will grant use of the four parallel parking stalls north of the building to allow for construction of parklets to be used for outdoor seating annually from April 15th to October 15th, providing an additional 28-40 seats in the summer months.

Preliminary architectural drawings are included in the appendices.

Key Design Features

The overall design for Foremost Brewing Cooperative is intended to be rustic-industrial. Key elements of the design will be original exposed brick, rustic wooden bar and table tops with steel accents. The decor will include elements reminiscent of the buildings past as a printing press. Articles from years past along with historical photos will adorn the walls.

Financial Projection Assumptions

These operating statements assume an annual sales growth rate of 4%. We project our busiest days to be Fridays and Saturdays with 280 covers on average and our quietest periods to be Tuesdays and Wednesdays with less than 110 covers on average. We project an average check of $15.55 per person.

Food cost is estimated to be 27.5% of sales and beverage cost is projected to be 72.5% of sales. This ratio of beverage to food is considerably higher than what would generally be expected for a brewpub because Foremost Brewing's focus is primarily on the beer and we are intentionally keeping the menu small. We assume the cost of goods sold percentages will remain relatively stable as we will alter our menu to accommodate changes in individual item costs.

Labor costs including management salaries are projected to be 38.5% of sales. Together with food and beverage costs, this gives the operation a proposed prime cost percentage of 64%.

Occupancy cost is based on a triple-net, monthly rent of $4,000 in the first year, $4,500 in the second year, and $5,000 each year thereafter; this is based on the agreement with Foremost Properties and assumes Foremost Properties will invest $600,000 in the build out. Additional occupancy costs include taxes, insurance and common area maintenance.

Operating costs have been estimated both from the ground up as well as being compared with industry averages and area norms. The break-even sales point is $11,400 per week.

The capital budget includes $175,000 for brewing equipment. The vast majority of building renovation costs will be borne by Foremost Properties. Leasehold improvements by Foremost Brewing will primarily be finishes and modifications required for the brewing and restaurant equipment.

Given all of these conservative estimates, Foremost Brewing Cooperative projects a 5-6% operating profit in its first full year.

Section 11 – The Offering

Funds Required

Foremost Brewing Cooperative requires a total investment of approximately $535,000 to develop, build out and begin operations. Of this amount, $125,000 will come from debt financing. The remaining $410,000 will be equity invested by members.

Patron Members

The investment level for patron members who become members before we open our doors for business is $150 for an individual membership and $250 for a joint membership (two people of the same household). Members who become members before we open our doors for business are considered "founding" members and will receive a founding member T-shirt and pin. After we open our doors for business, memberships will increase to $200 for an individual membership and $300 for a joint membership. The patron membership investment is a one-time fee. In addition to voting rights and dividends (refunds) based on purchases made, patron members receive the following financial benefits:

- Your name on the Founders tribute wall
- Member-only happy hour pricing
- A free pint the week of their birthday
- A free pint the week of their membership anniversary
- An exclusive Foremost Brewing Founders t-shirt
- An exclusive Founders pin

Non-Patron Members

Non-patron members own a membership interest in the cooperative and have the same voting rights as patron members.

Non-patron membership interests can be purchased in increments of $50, with the minimum investment level being $750 and the maximum investment level (for non-accredited investors) being $10,000.

Patron Plus Members

Member who hold both a patron membership and a non-patron membership are called "Patron Plus" members. Patron Plus members receive additional benefits corresponding to increasing levels of investment:

** All pint and growler fills must be Foremost Brewing Cooperative brewed beers.

*** For a joint membership, all Additional Perks are per household.

****A list of Foremost Brewing Cooperative sponsored local charities will be provided by the Board of Directors. The Patron Plus member will receive the opportunity to select a charity from the list provided and host an event in the charities honor. Foremost Brewing Cooperative will donate 10% of the events proceeds to the selected charity.

Dividends Paid to Patron and Non-Patron Members

Each year, the board of directors will determine what portion, if any, of the profits will be paid out to the members as dividends. The percentage paid to the patron membership and the portion paid to the non-patron membership will be in proportion to the investment level of the two groups. For example, if the total patron membership investment is $100,000 and the total non-patron membership investment is $300,000, the non-patron membership will receive 75% of the dividends and the patron membership will receive 25% of the dividends. However, in accordance with Minnesota law, the portion paid to the patron membership cannot be less than 15% even if the non-patron membership investment is greater than 85%.

Each patron member's share of the dividend will be in proportion to the amount of business they did with the cooperative that year. Each non-patron's dividend will be in proportion to their share of the investment held by the non-patron membership.

Projected Returns

Cashflow before taxes is expected to be approximately 9% of sales during the first five years of operation. Annual return on investment for non-patron members is anticipated to be 12-15% after the first two years of operations, while dividends for patron members are anticipated to be 5-6% of purchases. It likely that the board of directors will decide to not pay dividends in the first one to two years of operations in order to build up adequate cash reserves.

It is important to note that all project cost estimates and performance assumptions stated or implied are not guarantees.

MNvest Portal

In 1933, following the stock market crash of 1929, Congress passed the Securities Act ('33 Act). The '33 Act was designed to regulate the sale of securities (e.g. stocks,) by requiring companies that want to sell securities in their company to follow specific disclosure requirements. Prior to the '33 Act, there was limited regulation of these types of transactions and consumers had little recourse if they were victims of fraudulent business practices. The ideal of protecting the average consumer in this way was certainly noble, but the results over the last 80 years may not have been what the lawmakers expected.

While the '33 Act did address the issue of disclosure by companies, it also created a system that prevented the average consumer from taking advantage of the wealth creation that business investments offer. Companies wanting to publicly solicit securities investments are required to file extensive disclosure documents regarding their business and the securities they're offering. The idea being that these disclosure documents will protect consumers from fraudulent business practices. In reality, these requirements have made the cost of offering securities so expensive that companies can only afford to sell large amounts of securities to wealthy individuals and institutions.

Passed by the Minnesota legislature in 2015, the MNvest legislation provided an opportunity to break open this system, and now allows any consumer the right to benefit from investing in local Minnesota businesses.

Brewery vs. Brewpub Business Model

The article below was downloaded from http://growlermag.com/the-increasingly-blurry-line-between-brewpubs-and-taprooms/ on February 1, 2017.

Foremost Brewing will be a brewpub rather than a brewery for the following reasons:

- The goal is to be a gathering place for the community rather than a production facility
- The ability to serve wine and beers from other breweries will allow us to appeal to a broader audience.
- Although breweries may also serve food, most choose not to recognizing that the competencies for a restaurant and a brewery are different. To be successful, Foremost Brewing will recognize that it is a restaurant and hire management accordingly.
- There is a concern about the long-term viability of a brewery since so many are being opened at the current time and the novelty may wear off. Foremost Brewing will be a place that customers will return to again and again.

The increasingly blurry line between brewpubs and breweries

JANUARY 21, 2016 BY LOREN GREEN

Brewpubs and breweries both have "brew" in their titles and both places serve beer; and that's largely where the similarities between the two business models end—or at least where they used to.

Brewpubs and breweries are separate entities, each with its own definition and set of possibilities and limitations, and each offering owners very different business opportunities. However, the legislation passed in Minnesota in recent years has blurred the line between the two business models. With so many breweries and brewpubs popping up around Minnesota recently, we thought it was high time to finally explain what exactly the separation between a Surly, a Town Hall, and a Union Pizza & Brewing is, and why the owners of such establishments chose their respective routes.

In short, a Minnesota production brewery makes beer for distribution. Like Summit or Lake Superior Brewing Company, being a brewery means kegs, bottles, and cans, with the option for the brewery (following passage of the taproom bill in 2011) to sell its own beer onsite in a taproom. Breweries whose annual production is less than 20,000 barrels can also sell their beer directly to consumers in growlers and 750ml bottles.

A Minnesota brewpub, on the other hand, is a restaurant-plus-brewery that can pour its own beer as well as operate a full bar, including non-house beers, wine, and hard liquor. Brewpubs cannot distribute or package their beer (except for onsite growler and 750ml bottle sales for offsite consumption), but they can operate multiple locations and serve their beer at them, whereas a production brewery can only operate one taproom. Brewpubs are also capped at brewing no more than 3,500 barrels per year.

Seems clear cut, right? But don't forget, some production breweries like Dangerous Man choose to forego distribution altogether and only sell their beer exclusively onsite in their taproom and in growlers. Oh, and did we mention production breweries can also operate restaurants at their brewerie

For a long time, the presence of a restaurant served as the key indicator that a place was a brewpub and not a brewery. When the first generation of Minnesota brewpubs opened in the 1990s, the only avenue available to brewers who wanted to sit across the bar from their customers was to go the brewpub route. But now that breweries can operate kitchens onsite—think Surly, Urban Growler, Brau Brothers, and more—the difference between the two models has become less distinct.

"There was more of a community aspect to brewpubs," says Town Hall owner Pete Rifakes. "I don't think that's true today." He chose the brewpub model when he was planning Town Hall in 1995 because it's what he knew and loved. In graduate school, he was a regular at Seattle's Big Time Brewery & Alehouse, and when he moved to Minneapolis and started his own business plan, he frequented Rock Bottom. The social aspect was something production breweries couldn't provide back then. "If we were to reopen...I'm not in that situation, but I would probably lean toward opening a taproom," Rifakes says of today's marketplace. "The only reason to do [a brewpub] is if you're going to have a full bar."

Brewpubs are restaurants first, Rifakes adds. The beer is important, but "Your competition is other restaurants and the majority of your labor costs are on the restaurant side," he says. Being known first and foremost as a restaurant with a full bar are marketing tools for brewpubs to draw different clientele and drinkers than production breweries. "Not everyone who walks in our door is a craft beer lover like we are," says Steven Finnie, co-owner of Rochester, Minnesota, brewpub Grand Rounds. "It allows us to appeal to a wide variety of people." Downtown Rochester's bar scene is already crowded, so being a restaurant helps distinguish their business, he says.

Brau Brothers has held both brewpub and production brewery licenses over the years. "We actually opened as a restaurant first," says co-owner and brewer Dustin Brau. "To be honest, we added the brewery to the restaurant simply to get people to drive to Lucan for food. It was never meant to be the focus of the business originally; it was developed to give us identity and draw the then-limited craft beer crowd out of the woodwork." Due to growth, they changed direction in 2006 and began distributing their beer.

In some cases, the community dictates which business model brewers choose to run with. With the Mayo Center drawing travelers to Rochester, food sales are a key aspect to the survival of a business, says Grand Rounds chief operating officer Tessa Leung. A full bar and the ability to sell lagers, sours, cider, and other beverages they don't make in-house is an extra bonus. The taproom limitations just don't make sense for a downtown Rochester business, Leung says.

Farther outstate, away from Minnesota's population-dense metropolitan areas, owners have to take stock of their town's dynamics when deciding between the models. "If you didn't have any food I think you'd have a hard time making it a full-time deal," says Ben Schierer, owner of Union Pizza & Brewing in Fergus Falls, Minnesota (population 13,351). He and his wife run the brewpub as their primary employment, and the restaurant gets customers seven days a week.

Bob Nihart of Reads Landing Brewing Co., located in Reads Landing, Minnesota, just north of Wabasha, chose to open a brewpub because of space limitations. He already owned a historic building along the Mississippi River, and a production facility in the small building would be impractical. "My wife and I do a lot of beer tours, and have realized ambiance is key," he says. "Some are a big empty restaurant space that somebody took over that don't have atmosphere at all. Even if the beer is good, it feels stale and sterile."

Nihart says he knew he could offer something unique with a building pushing 150 years of age that's located a stone's throw from the river. "Being on the water is a big draw," he says. "The main reason I ended up here is because I already owned the building. Of course, had the building been in the middle of a field, I don't think I would have converted that into a brewery/restaurant."

Reads Landing and Union both use small three-barrel systems; Grand Rounds operates with a sevenbarrel system. The small size of these and other such brewpubs means that even if distribution were an option, it would be a challenge. As such, brewpubs tend to feature more limited-edition beers, which increases their draw as a destination for craft beer enthusiasts.

"I think the brewpubs that open don't expect large growth," Town Hall's Rifakes says about the new wave of openings. "Maybe they're content with that." He points to Town Hall as an example. He used to be more hands-on with bar work in the early years, but bartending and brewing are hard, physical work___better suited for younger employees. Eventually, he had to adopt a new strategy and bring on more workers. "You hire people that grow with the business," he explains. "As a brewpub you're constantly going to be turning over your young guys because they want to grow."

With Mike Hoops holding down the head brewer role at Town Hall, Rifakes says there is no place to promote his assistant brewers. That makes retention a problem—one he believes would be solved were he able to distribute; distribution offers more room for internal promotions. The "satellite" system of distribution that allows brewpubs to sell their beer at restaurants owned by the parent company (e.g. Town Hall beers at Town Hall Tap, Fitger's beers at Burrito Union, Freehouse beers at Groveland Tap) has helped the issue a little, Rifakes says, but it still doesn't solve the retention issue. Another consideration is that every satellite location requires investments in real estate and kitchen equipment. "It gets costly," he says. The bottom line? "I think if you're selling a legal product and there's demand for that product, you should be able to sell it," he says.

John Moore of Barley John's circumvented brewpub restrictions by opening a new production brewery (as a like-named but separate legal entity from the brewpub) in Wisconsin. Moore agrees with Rifakes' frustration with the dueling models and regulations. "When you have four walls to a restaurant there's a limit," he says. "With a brewery, there are only the limitations of your space."

When Rifakes, Moore, or Tim Nelson—one of the founders of Fitger's Brewhouse in Duluth—chose to open brewpubs, it was the early 2000s—a different marketplace for Minnesota craft beer. Like Rifakes, Nelson says he's seen the pendulum swing, but given industry dynamics he refuses to say one is a better business model than the other. Asked what he would open today: "Two years ago, I would have said the taproom, no question," he says. "But today, as the competition increases, it becomes a question again."

As for where a brewpub stands in comparison to a production brewery today, Nelson says it's the differing definitions and limitations that are most tricky. "It creates a lot of confusion with consumers, that's the biggest hurdle," he says.

The lines will continue to blur as the beer scene develops in Minnesota and the state faces more and more people requesting to adjust regulations. Different communities and individuals have different goals and needs, and the fact remains that some people just don't want to go to a place that only serves beer. "I think there's room on both sides," Nelson says. "I think it still is viable, it just depends on what the individual wants to do."

RE: New Minnesota Statutes Chapter 308B - Minnesota Cooperative Associations Act

I. Introduction.

A. The Chapter 308B Statute Was Proposed to Provide Flexibility to Minnesota Cooperatives Attempting to Raise Equity for Modernization or Expansion.

The recently concluded Minnesota Legislative Session ended with a major milestone for the Minnesota Association of Cooperatives (MAC). The Legislature passed, and Governor Pawlenty signed into law, legislation creating a second Minnesota cooperative law that provides significant tools for patron members seeking outside equity capital for the creation, modernization, or expansion of a cooperative. MAC sought passage of the new law because Minnesota cooperatives have experienced difficulty raising equity capital for cooperative creation, modernization or expansion under the current restrictive Minnesota cooperative law and because some cooperatives are converting to non-cooperative forms like LLC's to gain greater access to equity.

New Chapter 308B essentially authorizes outside equity investment in the cooperative in return for limited voting rights to provide for more flexible financing alternatives for cooperatives. New Chapter 308B does not replace Chapter 308A. Patron members now have two choices when determining what type of Minnesota cooperative they wish to create.

This new law places Minnesota, the leading cooperative state in the nation, at the forefront of the evolution of national cooperative law. Just today, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives in a press release cited the new Minnesota law as a primary reason why national cooperative law needs to be reformed.

The new law was primarily written by attorneys in the Minneapolis office of Lindquist & Vennum, one of the leading cooperative law firms in the nation. The attorneys drafted the new law following an extensive series of meetings MAC hosted with Minnesota cooperatives across the state in the summer and fall of 2002. Attorneys from Dorsey & Whitney also provided MAC with legal guidance on this issue.

B. Chapter 308B Provides Significant Protections for Patron Members.

It's vital to understand that the new statute creates a number of protections for patron members through mandated minimum levels of voting control within the board of directors, by votes of the membership and in determining financial rights. These protections are established through a series of floors such as a requirement that patron members retain at least 50% voting control of the board of directors. Members, in the bylaws, may set the exact percentage. However, the members do not have the discretion to lower the minimum floors established in the statute.

II. Investment Members Authorized. Unlike current Chapter 308A, Chapter 308B cooperatives may have two classes of members: patron members and investment members. Patron members have the financial right to no less than 60% of the cooperatives' profit allocations and distributions unless patron members vote to reduce their financial rights. Even if they do, non-patron investor members may receive no more than 85% of the cooperative's profit allocations and distributions even if their ownership interest is greater than 85%. Also, it is important to note patron members may also become investment members.

III. Taxation and Conversion. A Chapter 308B cooperative may be taxed as a partnership under Subchapter K of the Internal Revenue Code and receive pass-through treatment, or elect to be taxed as a cooperative under Subchapter T with a deduction from taxable income to the cooperative for patronage-sourced income. Choosing subchapter K tax treatment provides the potential benefit of pass-through treatment of profits from non-member business and the avoidance of double taxation of non-member business under Subchapter T.

It is unlikely existing, profitable Chapter 308A Minnesota cooperatives taxed under Subchapter T would convert to a Chapter 308B cooperative taxed under Subchapter K because the IRS would likely view the conversion as a liquidation of the Chapter 308A cooperative with a sale of assets. According to tax and legal experts, an appraisal of the cooperative's value may result in considerable gain taxed to members without distributed income to pay the tax.

IV. Cooperative Governance. The statute provides flexibility in governance through reliance on the cooperative's bylaws, with certain mandated minimum levels of governance rights for patron members. This flexibility allows the cooperative's members to determine the appropriate governance structure through bylaws rather than having the Legislature determine all of the key governance issues.

Chapter 308B requires the patron-members to hold at least 50% of the voting powers on "general matters of the cooperative." This means patron-members retain considerable influence over cooperative decisions, particularly when combined with a Chapter 308B provision that provides that patron-members generally vote as a bloc in board decisions or decisions by the general membership.

The new statute sets a minimum patron member voting rights floor. Patron members of a cooperative can set significantly higher levels of patron member control in the bylaws.

A Chapter 308B cooperative must establish an Audit Committee which may consist of the entire Board. V. Patron Member Financial Rights. A Chapter 308B cooperative has the flexibility to determine patron and investor member financial rights. Unless modified at the cooperative's inception, patron members are entitled to at least 60% of the cooperative's financial rights to profit allocations and distributions. This number may only be later reduced if the patron members affirmatively vote for the reduced patron member financial rights. Significantly, the statute mandates an absolute 15% floor on patron member financial rights. This means that even if patron members vote for a change that reduces their financial rights to less than 60%, the patron members must still receive at least 15% of the cooperative's profits even if investor members (who do not patronize the cooperative) own more than 85% of the equity. This provision is intended to ensure a minimum level of distribution for patron members.

The new statute sets a floor. Patron members of a cooperative can set significantly higher levels of patron member financial rights in the bylaws.

VI. Why Cooperatives Might Organize Under the New Chapter 308B. Many Minnesota cooperatives have expressed interest in utilizing a cooperative form of governance for a joint venture. Minnesota cooperatives have noted that the limitations of Chapter 308A meant they had to choose to organize related businesses as LLC's. Under Chapter 308B, two cooperatives and an outside investor can form a new Chapter 308B cooperative, be taxed like an LLC and still potentially qualify for Capper-Volstead Act antitrust immunity protection.

Minnesota agricultural producers have pointed out that the current law limits their ability to obtain debt financing because of the difficulty raising equity through preferred stock offerings and their inability to raise equity capital from non-patron investors or even from patron members who want to further invest in the cooperative. Chapter 308B allows for the ability to raise equity from non-patron investors and patron members to meet minimum equity requirements and pay more than 8% return on the investment.

Several electric cooperatives have asked for a new cooperative statute that allows them to create joint ventures with other electric cooperatives, or other cooperatives, in a cooperative form, rather than as an LLC. Chapter 308B provides significant flexibility for joint ventures. For example, two electric cooperatives can join with a non-cooperative business in a Chapter 308B cooperative for the purpose of conducting joint right-of-way maintenance, security services, etc.

Chapter 308B also allows non-agricultural businesses such as senior housing, electric, telecommunications, health care, and purchasing cooperatives to be more freely created and have the equity provided by members and non-members. For example, a telecommunications cooperative could raise non-patron member equity to help finance the installation of cable in their community.

VII. Potential Issues to Consider.

A. Antitrust Protection May Be An Issue for New Chapter 308B Cooperatives Marketing Agricultural Products. Minnesota cooperatives should carefully consider how the new Chapter 308B might apply to existing and future cooperative business activities. For example, existing agricultural cooperatives marketing agricultural products enjoy antitrust immunity protection under Capper-Volstead. Generally, antitrust immunity protection applies to "[p]ersons engaged in the production of agricultural products as farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen, nut or fruit growers." Furthermore, no member may be allowed more than one vote or dividends on preferred stock may not exceed 8% per year, and the cooperative may not market more products produced by non-members than members. Allowing non-patron investor members into the cooperative may place this immunity at risk and should be carefully considered by the cooperative's legal and tax experts.

More than several Minnesota agricultural cooperatives have argued this is not a significant issue if the cooperative cannot raise enough equity capital to get started or is involved in a non-agricultural production or marketing activity. Furthermore, since antitrust immunity is generally limited to the marketing of agricultural products, a majority of Minnesota's cooperatives currently do not currently enjoy this antitrust immunity protection.

B. Patron Member Decision-Making and the Need for Continuing Education. Patron members, at the cooperatives' creation, have the flexibility to determine what levels of control they wish to have relative to non-patron investor members. Therefore, it's important that patron members carefully consider such important issues as member voting, board of director voting and financial rights when incorporating as a cooperative. Certainly these issues should be carefully considered throughout the life of the cooperative as well. This suggests the importance of continuing education of patron board directors and members so that patron members fully understand their rights and responsibilities within the cooperative and make decisions based on full information.

C. Securities Issues Should be Carefully Analyzed. Finally, anyone exploring creation of a Section 308B cooperative should also closely examine federal and state securities laws. Minnesota law generally exempts cooperative securities from state securities registration requirement. Depending on how the new cooperative is set up, the cooperative may not be eligible to receive the benefits of the securities exemption.

VIII. MAC Education Conferences on New Chapter 308B Planned for this Summer. MAC is scheduling a series of educational conferences on new Chapter 308B for this summer. Notices will be mailed to MAC members and updates will be posted on MAC's website: www.wfcmac.org/coops/mac/mac.html

This memorandum is offered by the Minnesota Association of Cooperatives to members for the purpose of generally summarizing new Minnesota Chapter 308B and not for the purpose of offering legal advice. Members should consult competent legal or tax counsel for guidance.

The Cooperative's Fiscal Year shall end on December 31.

ARTICLE II: MEMBERSHIP

Section 1: Qualifications. Any individual over the age at which consumption of alcohol is permitted in Minnesota, firm, company, corporation, or Cooperative may become a Member pursuant to terms established by the Board of Directors. Each transaction between this Cooperative and each Member shall be subject to and shall include as part of its terms each provision of the Articles of Organization of this Cooperative and these Bylaws, whether or not the same is expressly referred to in said transaction. The Cooperative shall not discriminate on social or political grounds, on the basis of race, creed, age (except as noted herein above), sex, handicap, sexual preference or marital status.

Section 2: Current Address. Every Member agrees to provide his or her current address and to keep the Cooperative apprised of any changes to that Member's address. The Board of Directors shall establish a method by which a Member can update their address electronically and receive an electronic confirmation. If the Cooperative has not updated the Members' address in its records and the Member has not received an electronic confirmation, then that Member's address shall not be deemed to be updated under these bylaws. A Member may also update his or her address by sending a letter by certified mail through the United States Postal Service that both explicitly requests that the Member's address be updated and provides a complete updated mailing address.

Section 3: Classes of Members. There shall be two classes of Members:

(A). Patron Members will be those individuals who join the Cooperative with the intent of consuming any product produced by the Cooperative or otherwise doing business with the Cooperative in any way.

(B). Nonpatron Members will be those individuals who own a Membership interest in the Cooperative and have been approved by the Board of Directors as Nonpatron Members. Nonpatron Members may also be, but do not need to be, Patron Members.

Section 4: Patron Membership

(A). Eligibility Requirements. Any Qualified Member residing within the State of Minnesota may become a Patron Member.

(B). Application and Purchase Requirement. Application for Membership shall be made in writing on a form provided by the Cooperative or through some electronic means provided by the Cooperative. Pending approval by the board, a Qualified Member shall sign a Member purchase agreement for one unit of Patron Membership Interest and shall provide appropriate payment as determined by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors shall have complete discretion to approve or disapprove of a prospective Patron Member's application for any reason.

(C). Approval. The Board of Directors, or a group of individuals delegated such authority by the Board of Directors, shall act upon applications for Membership at the first Board Meeting after the application is received. The application may be approved or rejected based upon policies established by the Board of Directors, subject to the restrictions in Section 1. The Board of Directors may, at its sole discretion, provide a means of providing some, but not necessarily all, Membership benefits to prospective Members on an expedited basis upon receiving appropriate payment but before official approval by the Board of Directors. (D). Voting Rights. Patron Members shall have one vote in the affairs of the Cooperative regardless of how many Patron Membership interests are owned by the Qualified Member.

(E). Termination.

(1). A Patron Member may terminate his or her Membership by providing notice to the Cooperative through either an electronic method provided by the Cooperative for the express purpose of termination or by certified mail. Patron Membership shall also terminate automatically upon the death of a Member. A Patron Member who has not provided his or her current address for a period of two consecutive years shall be determined to have abandoned his or her Membership and gifted it to the Cooperative.

(2). The Board of Directors may, by a majority vote, terminate a Patron Membership at any time for any reason that they deem appropriate, including, but not limited to situations where the Member has:

> (a) intentionally or repeatedly violated any provision of the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaws or Board policies of this Cooperative;

> (b) materially breached any contract with this Cooperative;

(c) remained indebted to this Cooperative for ninety (90) days after such indebtedness becomes payable;

(d) willfully obstructed any lawful purpose of the Cooperative;

(e) been convicted of any criminal offense related to the consumption of alcohol.

(f) Members without valid mailing addresses (physical and electronic), and having no other activity with the Cooperative for a period of two years from the date of address invalidity, shall be considered inactive and their Membership transferred to the Cooperative. Inactive Members may have their Membership reactivated upon filing a valid address. If a Member's capital has been retained by the Cooperative, it will be returned to their account upon reactivation.

(3). Patron Members subject to termination of Membership by the Board of Directors shall be given at least a 30 day notice and an opportunity to be heard by the Board of Directors prior to the effective date of termination. However, in the event a Patron Member is convicted of a criminal offense related to the consumption of alcohol, then the Board of Directors has complete discretion to terminate the Patron Member's Membership immediately without notice or chance for a hearing.

(4). Upon a Patron Member's withdrawal from the Cooperative, or other termination of a Patron Member's Membership Interest, the Membership Interest of the Patron Member shall be transferred to the Cooperative under any terms as provided by the Board of Directors. Membership Interests and Patron Membership rights of the Cooperative are not transferable or assignable under any other circumstances.

(5). Upon termination, the Cooperative shall purchase the Patron Member's Membership Interest at par or book value, whichever is lower, together with any cash or other distribution due or unpaid, less any indebtedness due to the Cooperative, provided that the Patron has been a member for at least one year. A Patron terminating their Membership within the first year of ownership shall receive no payment and the Membership Interest passes to the Cooperative. The Cooperative shall repurchase a terminating Member's Membership interest only when it has received replacement capital from new or continuing Members. Regardless of the reasons for termination, repurchase of this Cooperative's Membership Interest from a terminated Member shall be subject to the same terms and limitations governing all Membership Interest repurchases, including availability of replacement capital and the discretion of the Board of Directors to determine terms of repurchase.

(6). Upon termination of Membership, the Patron Member shall thereafter have no voting rights in the Cooperative. No action taken hereunder shall impair the obligations or liabilities of either party under any contract with the Cooperative, which may be terminated only as provided therein.

(F). Patronage Refund

(1). The Board of Directors shall establish a means by which certain proceeds of the Cooperative are returned to each Patron Member on the basis of business done with the Cooperative. The Cooperative is not obligated to provide any such Patronage Refund at the end of any Fiscal Year. The Board of Directors shall determine the form of distribution. The Board of Directors may distribute net income to Patron Members in cash, capital credits, allocated patronage equities, or its own or other securities.

(2). The Board of Directors, if it determines that it is in the interest of the Cooperative and/or its Members, shall have discretion to issue a return to all Patron Members that is distributed equally to all Patron Members. (3). The amount returned to the Patron Membership as a Patronage Refund shall not be less than 15% of the Cooperative's total Profits, less a necessary and reasonable reserve, in the fiscal year.

(4.) A Patron Member's financial rights to distributions are not transferable to anyone except the Cooperative.

(G). Household Memberships

(1). The board of Directors may establish a process by which no more than two Members of a household may become joint Patron Members under the same Membership.

(2). Under such a Household Membership, both Members shall be bound by all the same terms of these By-Laws as well as the Cooperative's Articles of Organization.

(3). Under such a Household Membership, both Members shall have all the same rights and privileges of any other Patron Member, except that they shall have no more than one vote between them.

(4). Nothing in this subsection shall be read to prevent multiple Members of the same household from otherwise becoming separate individual Members.

Section 5: Nonpatron Membership

(A). Eligibility Requirements. Any Qualified Member may become a Nonpatron Member.

(B). Application and Purchase Requirement. A prospective Nonpatron Member shall make an application to purchase a Nonpatron Membership interest in writing to the Cooperative. The application shall indicate, at least, the amount of money, services, or other consideration the prospective Nonpatron Member intends to provide the Cooperative as well as identifying information about the prospective Nonpatron Member. Upon approval by the Board, the prospective Nonpatron Member shall sign a Membership Interest purchase agreement for the number of units of Nonpatron Membership Interest that have been agreed upon by the Cooperative and the potential Nonpatron Member.

(C). Approval. Upon the affirmative vote of the Board of Directors and execution by the prospective Nonpatron Member applicant of the Cooperative's then current Member control agreement, the Board of Directors shall accept the purchase agreement of the Nonpatron Member and accept the money, services, or other consideration offered in exchange for Nonpatron Membership. (D). Voting Rights. Each Nonpatron Member shall have one vote in the affairs of the Cooperative.

(E.). Distribution of Profits or Losses. At the end of the Fiscal Year, if the Board of Directors decides to issue a return to the Membership, then the percentage to be paid to the Nonpatron Members shall be proportionate to the investment by Patron Membership as compared to the investment by Nonpatron Members. For example, if Patron Membership investment is $100,000.00 and Nonpatron Membership investment is $200,000.00, two thirds of the proposed distribution shall be distributed to the Nonpatron Membership. This distribution to Nonpatron Members shall be divided proportionally among the holders of outstanding Nonpatron Membership interests according to their share of such interests. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the distribution to the Nonpatron Members shall never exceed 85% of the distribution to the Members.

(F). Transfer. The Board of Directors shall create whatever policies it deems necessary restricting the transfer of Nonpatron Member interests. The Board of Directors shall publish these policies to Nonpatron Members in any manner it deems necessary, including, but not limited to, notification by post, electronic communication, notification in a regular publication provided to Nonpatron Members, or production on the Cooperative's website. Under no circumstances may a Nonpatron Membership interest be transferred or assigned except as provided in the policies created by the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may at its sole discretion authorize the repurchase of Membership interests of any willing Nonpatron Member.

(G.) Withdrawal of Nonpatron Member. Upon withdrawal, the Cooperative shall purchase the Nonpatron Member's Membership Interest upon such terms or conditions as may be agreed upon by the Board of Directors and the withdrawing Nonpatron Member or as may be set forth in the Member Control Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Cooperative shall repurchase a withdrawing Nonpatron Membership interest only when it has received replacement capital from new or continuing Members. No payment to a withdrawing Nonpatron Member shall be made prior to the end of the Cooperative's fifth full calendar year of operation.

ARTICLE III: MEETINGS OF MEMBERS

Section 1. Regular Members' Meetings

- (A) Annual Meeting. Regular Members' meetings shall be held annually at a date and time determined by the Board of Directors.

The regular Members' meeting notice shall be given by approved method at least two weeks before the date of the meeting or mailed at least 15 days before the date of the meeting.
  - (2) The notice shall contain a summary of any By-Law amendments adopted by the Board since the last annual meeting.
- (G) Waiver and objections. A Member may waive notice of a meeting of Members. A waiver of notice by a Member entitled to notice is effective whether given before, at, or after the meeting, and whether given in writing, orally, or by attendance. Attendance by a Member at a meeting is a waiver of notice of that meeting, except where the Member objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened, or objects before a vote on an item of business because the item may not lawfully be considered at that meeting and does not participate in the consideration of the item at that meeting.

Section 2. Special Members' Meetings

(A) Calling meeting. Special Members' meetings may be called by:

a majority vote of the Board; or

(2) the written petition of at least 20 percent of the Patron Members, 20 percent of the Nonpatron Members, 20 percent of all Members, or Members representing 20 percent of the Membership interests collectively are submitted to the chair.

- (B) Notice of Special Members' Meeting. The Cooperative shall give notice of a Special Members' meeting by electronically delivering notice to each Member at the Members' email address of record, publication in any regular periodical produced by the Coop for benefit of and distribution to the Membership as a whole, published on the website or on social media platforms of the Cooperative, or by mailing by first class mail to the Member's post office address of record mailing the special Members' meeting notice to each Member personally at the person's last known post office address or any alternative method approved by the Board and the Member individually or the Members generally. For a Member that is an entity, notice mailed or delivered by an alternative method shall be to an officer of the entity. The Special Members' meeting notice shall state the time, place, and purpose of the Special Members' meeting. The Special Members' meeting notice shall be issued within ten days from and after the date of the presentation of a Members' petition, and the Special Members' meeting shall be held within 30 days after the date of the presentation of the Members' petition.
- (C) Waiver and objections. A Member may waive notice of a meeting of Members. A waiver of notice by a Member entitled to notice is effective whether given before, at, or after the meeting, and whether given in writing, orally, or by attendance. Attendance by a Member at a meeting is a waiver of notice of that meeting, except where the Member objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened, or objects before a vote on an item of business because the item may not lawfully be considered at that meeting and does not participate in the consideration of the item at that meeting.

Section 3. Certification of Meeting Notice

- (A) Certificate of mailing. After mailing special or regular Members' meeting notices or otherwise delivering the notices, the Cooperative shall execute a certificate containing the date of mailing or delivery of the notice and a statement that the special or regular Members' meeting notices were mailed or delivered as prescribed by law.
- (B) Matter of record. The certificate shall be made a part of the record of the meeting.
- (C) Failure to receive meeting notice. Failure of a Member to receive a special or regular Members' meeting notice does not invalidate an action taken by the Members at a Members' meeting.

Section 4. Quorum

(A) Quorum for meeting. The quorum for a Members' meeting to transact business shall be:

 ten percent of the total number of Members for a Cooperative with 500 or fewer Members; or

(2) 50 Members for Cooperatives with more than 500 Members.

- (D) Quorum for voting by mail. In determining a quorum at a meeting, on a question submitted to a vote by mail or an alternative method, Members present in person or represented by mail vote or the alternative voting method shall be counted. The attendance of a sufficient number of Members to constitute a quorum shall be established by a registration of the Members of the Cooperative present at the meeting. The registration shall be verified by the chair or the records officer of the Cooperative and shall be reported in the minutes of the meeting.
- (E) Meeting action invalid without quorum. An action by the Cooperative is not valid or legal in the absence of a quorum at the meeting at which the action was taken.

ARTICLE IV. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1. Number of Directors. The governance and management of Steele Tap Brewing Cooperative is directed by its Board of Directors. There shall be no less than five and no more than nine Directors. A majority of the Directors shall be Patron Members, but there shall always be at least one Nonpatron Director on the Board to represent the interests of Nonpatron Members. Males and females shall each always occupy at least 25% of the seats on the Board of Directors.

Section 2. Eligibility. All Members are eligible to run for the Board of Directors.

Section 3. Powers and Duties. The Board is responsible for setting policy, issuing Membership interests, leading Members' Meetings, and ensuring that all actions taken by the Cooperative are both lawful and consistent with these By-Laws. A Director individually or collectively with other Directors does not have authority to act for or on behalf of the Cooperative unless authorized by the Board. A Director may advocate interests of Members or Member groups to the Board, but the fiduciary duty of each Director is to represent the best interests of the Cooperative and all Members collectively.

Section 4. Nominations. The Board shall establish a Nominating Committee responsible for finding and cultivating competent candidates to fill open positions on the Board, including the Nonpatron Directors. A slate of proposed candidates shall be submitted to the Board of Directors by the Nominating Committee in advance of the Annual Members' Meeting so that the slate of candidates can be included with the Notice of the Annual Meeting. All candidates for Board positions must fill out an application, disclose all possible conflicts of interest they may hold, and comply with any other requirements of the Membership Committee for inclusion among the Board candidates. Nothing herein shall prohibit a qualified Member from submitting his or her name for election provided that they fill out an application, disclose all possible conflicts of interest they may hold, and comply with any other requirements of the Nominating Committee for inclusion among the Board candidates.

Section 5. Terms. Directors shall serve three year terms and elections shall be held on a staggered basis such that approximately one third of Director seats are up for election each year. Directors may serve on the Board for no more than two consecutive terms or six consecutive years, and thereafter must wait at least two years before standing again for election.

Section 6. Election and Removal. Board elections shall be held by a referendum of the Members attending the Annual Meeting. A Director may be removed with or without cause. Removal requires a vote of two-thirds vote of the Board, or a majority vote of a Meeting of the Members. Members may give a written proxy to any other qualified Member. The proxy shall be in the form established by the Board of Directors and must be delivered or mailed to the Cooperative's Records Officer in time for it to be presented at the Annual Meeting.

Section 7. Vacancies. Should a vacancy arise, the Board shall choose an individual to fill that position on a temporary basis until the next election cycle.

Section 8. Meetings of the Board of Directors.

(A) Time and Place. Meetings of the Board may be held at any location from time to time as provided in the Articles or By-Laws. If the Board fails to select a place for a meeting, the meeting shall be held at the principal executive office, unless the Articles or By-Laws provide otherwise.

(B) Electronic Communications.

(i) A conference among Directors by any means of communication through which the Directors may simultaneously hear each other during the conference constitutes a Board meeting, if the same notice is given of the conference as would be required by otherwise for a meeting, and if the number of Directors participating in the conference would be sufficient to constitute a quorum at a meeting. Participation in a meeting by that means constitutes presence in person at the meeting.

(ii) A Director may participate in a Board meeting not described in paragraph
 (a) by any means of communication through which the Director, other
 Directors so participating, and all Directors physically present at the meeting may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. Participation in a meeting by that means constitutes presence in person at the meeting.

Section 9. Calling meetings and notice. A Director may call a Board meeting by giving at least ten days' notice or, in the case of organizational meetings, at least three days' notice to all Directors of the date, time, and place of the meeting. The notice need not state the purpose of the meeting unless Chapter 508B, the Articles or the By-Laws require it.

- (A) Previously Scheduled Meetings. If the day or date, time, and place of a Board meeting have been provided in the Articles or By-Laws, or announced at a previous meeting of the Board, no notice is required. Notice of an adjourned meeting need not be given other than by announcement at the meeting at which adjournment is taken.
- (B) Waiver of Notice. A Director may waive notice of a meeting of the Board. A waiver of notice by a Director entitled to notice is effective whether given before, at, or after the meeting, and whether given in writing, orally, or by attendance. Attendance by a Director at a meeting is a waiver of notice of that meeting, except where the Director objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened and does not participate in the meeting after the objection.

Section 10. Absent Directors. A Director may give advance written consent or opposition to a proposal to be acted on at a Board meeting. If the Director is not present at the meeting, consent or opposition to a proposal does not constitute presence for purposes of determining the existence of a quorum, but consent or opposition must be counted as the vote of a Director present at the meeting in favor of or against the proposal and must be entered in the minutes or other record of action at the meeting, if the proposal acted on at the meeting is substantially the same or has substantially the same effect as the proposal to which the Director has consented or objected.

Section 11. Quorum. A majority of the Directors currently holding office is a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn a meeting from time to time until a quorum is present. If a quorum is present when a duly called or held meeting is convened, the Directors present may continue to transact business until adjournment, even though the withdrawal of a number of Directors originally present leaves less than the proportion of number otherwise required for a quorum.

Section 12. Action of the Board of Directors Without a Meeting. An action required or permitted to be taken at a Board meeting may be taken by written action signed by all of the Directors. Any action, other than an action requiring Member approval, may be taken by written action signed by the number of Directors that would be required to take the same action at a meeting of the Board at which all Directors were present.

- (A) Effective Time. The written action is effective when signed by the required number of Directors, unless a different effective time is provided in the written action.
- (B) Notice and Liability. When written action is permitted to be taken by less than all Directors, all Directors must be notified immediately of its text and effective date. Failure to provide the notice does not invalidate the written action. A Director who does not sign or consent to the written action has no liability for the action or actions taken by the written action.

Section 13. Audit Committee. The Board shall establish an audit committee to review the financial information and accounting report of the Cooperative. The Cooperative shall have the financial information audited for presentation to the Members. If a majority of the Directors approve, financial statements that are not audited, but which clearly state that they are not audited, may be presented to the Members provided that they are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting procedures. The Directors shall elect Members to the audit committee. The audit committee shall ensure an independent review of the Cooperative's finances and audit.

Section 14. Compensation. The compensation of the Board shall be defined in a written policy to be approved by a majority of the Members.

Section 15. Committees. A resolution approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the Board may establish committees having the authority of the Board in the management of the business of the Cooperative only to the extent provided in the resolution. Committees may include a special litigation committee consisting of one or more independent Directors or other independent persons to consider legal rights or remedies of the Cooperative and whether those rights and remedies should be pursued. Committees other than special litigation committees are subject at all times to the direction and control of the Board.

- (A) Membership. Committee Members must be natural persons and be Patron Members. A committee consists of one or more persons, who need not be Directors, appointed by affirmative vote of a majority of the Directors present.
- (B) Procedure. The procedures for meetings of the Board apply to committees and Members of committees to the same extent as those sections apply to the Board and individual Directors.
- (C) Minutes. Minutes, if any, of committee meetings must be made available upon request to Members of the committee and to any Director.

Section 16. Standard of conduct. A Director shall discharge the duties of the position of Director in good faith, in a manner the Director reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the Cooperative, and with the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances. A person who so performs those duties is not liable by reason of being or having been a Director of the Cooperative. The establishment of, delegation of authority to, and action by a committee does not alone constitute compliance by a Director with the standard of conduct set forth in section.

Section 17. Reliance. A Director is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, in each case prepared or presented by:

(A) one or more officers or employees of the Cooperative who the Director reasonably believes to be liable and competent in the matters presented;

(B) counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters that the Director reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence; or

(C) a committee of the Board upon which the Director does not serve, duly established by the Board, as to matters within its designated authority, if the Director reasonably believes the committee to merit confidence.

(D) paragraph (i) does not apply to a Director who has knowledge concerning the matter in question that makes the reliance otherwise permitted by paragraph (a) unwarranted.

Section 18. Presumption of assent and dissent. A Director who is present at a meeting of the Board when an action is approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the Directors present is presumed to have assented to the action approved, unless the Director:

(A) objects at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened and does not participate in the meeting after the objection, in which case the Director is not considered to be present at the meeting for any purpose of this chapter;

(B) votes against the action at the meeting; or

(C) is prohibited by a conflict of interest from voting on the action.

Section 19. Considerations. In discharging the duties of the position of Director, a Director may, in considering the best interests of the Cooperative, consider the interests of the Cooperative's employees, customers, suppliers, and creditors, the economy of the state, and long-term as well as short-term interests of the Cooperative and its patron Members, including the possibility that these interests may be best served by the continued independence of the Cooperative.

Section 20. Director Conflicts of Interest. A contract or other transaction between the Cooperative and one or more of its Directors, or between the Cooperative and a business entity in or of which one or more of its Directors are governors, directors, managers, officers, or legal representatives or have a material financial interest, is not void or voidable because the Director or Directors or the other business entities are parties or because the Director or Directors are present at the meeting of the Members or the Board or a committee at which the contract or transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified, if:

> (A) The contract or transaction was, and the person asserting the validity of the contract or transaction sustains the burden of establishing that the contract or transaction was, fair and reasonable as to the Cooperative at the time it was authorized, approved, or ratified, and:

 (i) the material facts as to the contract or transaction and as to the Director's or Directors' interest are disclosed or known to the Members; and

(ii) the material facts as to the contract or transaction and as to the Director's or Directors' interest are fully disclosed or known to the Board or a committee, and the Board or committee authorizes, approves, or ratifies the contract or transaction in good faith by a majority of the Board or committee, but the interested Director or Directors are not counted in determining the presence of a quorum and must not vote; or

(iii) the contract or transaction is a distribution, contract, or transaction that is made available to all Members or patron Members as part of the Cooperative's business.

(B) If a committee is elected or appointed to authorize, ratify, or approve a contract or transaction under this section, the Members of the committee must not have a conflict of interest and be charged with representing the best interests of the Cooperative.

Section 21. Material financial interest. For purposes of this section,

(A) a resolution fixing the compensation of a Director or fixing the compensation of another Director as a Director, officer, employee, or agent of the Cooperative, is not void or voidable or considered to be a contract or other transaction between a Cooperative and one or more of its Directors for purposes of this section even though the Director receiving the compensation fixed by the resolution is present and voting at the meeting of the Board or a committee at which the resolution is authorized, approved, or ratified or even though other Directors voting upon the resolution are also receiving compensation from the Cooperative; and

(B) a Director has a material financial interest in each organization in which the Director or the spouse; parents; children and spouses of children; brothers and sisters and spouses of brothers and sisters; and the brothers and sisters of the spouse of the Director or any combination of them have a material financial interest. For purposes of this section, a contract or other transaction between a Cooperative and the spouse; parents; children and spouses of children; brothers and sisters and spouses of brothers and sisters; and the brothers and sisters of the spouse of a Director or any combination of them, is considered to be a transaction between the Cooperative and the Director.

Section 22. Limitation of Directors' Liability. A Director shall not be personally liable to the Cooperative or its Members for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty if the acts of the Director are taken in good faith. Nothing herein shall limit the liability of a Director:

(A) for a breach of the Director's duty of loyalty to the Cooperative or its Members; or

(B) for acts or omissions that are not in good faith or involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law; or

(C) for knowing violations of securities laws or for illegal distributions; or

(D) for a transaction from which the Director derived an improper personal benefit; or

(E) for an act or omission occurring before the date when the provision in the By-Laws eliminating or limiting liability becomes effective.

ARTICLE V. OFFICERS

The Coop shall carry appropriate liability insurance to protect its officers, Directors, employees, and the Coop itself against the costs of such indemnification.
