- Seller shall provide financing in the amount of $3,850,000 at 5% interest only for year 1 and 6% interest only in year 2. No pre-payment penalties and loan fees involved. There is a 3rd year option for a 1% fee at 8% interest only

- Upon Stabilization of the asset, agency debt will be placed on the property at market rates and terms, to be determined.

VII. Due Diligence

The basis for the business plan was derived through the due diligence performed by Todd Dexheimer, along with Sundance Property Management, Derringer Contracting, LLC and Silvestri Real Estate. This analysis included:

Walking all buildings and vacant units - detailing all issues of the interiors and Exteriors

Review of financial statements, tenant information, market reports

Evaluation of resident stability in the submarket

Review of all service contracts as they pertain to the operating statements

Thorough market analysis to establish market rents and vacancy projections

Through this comprehensive analysis we arrived at an acceptable purchase price that will allow for successful operation of the property. In addition, we assembled a detailed business plan for maximizing returns through income growth and operational and capital cost savings, and accelerated depreciation based on a cost segregation analysis as outlined on the next page.

VIII. Business Plan

- There will be lower cash flow in the beginning of year one as we will be establishing new market rents by renovating vacant units. This will in turn create additional short term vacancies and cause temporary break even cash flow. We expect to lose some of our existing tenants due to the physical changes that the buildings will undergo and the increase in rents, however, once renovations are complete, occupancy and gross revenue are expected to increase rapidly.
- Analysis of comparable properties indicates that currently the rents for renovated units are slightly below market rent and below market for the non-renovated units.
- Total renovation and stabilization will take 12-16 months. The renovation phase should be completed in under 16 months leaving the remaining months to lease up.
- We will be improving landscaping, entrances and curb overall appeal along with the common areas and interior units for the property. These improvements will enable us to obtain a positive community for all or our residents.
- Our goal will be to operate the property and maximize the value in the first 3-7 years, after which we will exit the property.
- We currently own Ashland Apartments, which is an 84 unit property within a few blocks that will allow for shared staffing and increase efficiency

Capital Improvements

Our due diligence identified large amounts necessary in capital improvements totaling $724,955 that will increase the property's competitive advantage in the market. All improvements are slated to be completed in the first 12-16 months of ownership. Our company will be working in collaboration with the city inspectors in order to ensure all safety hazards and code violations have been identified and remedied.

Priority will be given to all exterior items and safety items. Capital items include, but are not limited to:

- Landscaping improvements: Adding shrubs and landscaping beds to the front and sides of the property and clearing out the overgrown trees in the rear of the buildings
- Replace Exterior doors and locks, providing self-closing doors and auto locking hardware
- Painting common areas
- Add lighting in common areas
- Replacing common area flooring
- Repairs to all units to varying degree including new Luxury Vinyl flooring, painting, kitchen cabinets and counters, bath repairs, plumbing and electrical fixtures and appliances
- Code and fire safety repairs to the plumbing, electrical, boiler and building systems
- Replacing furnaces and water heaters
- Pest control

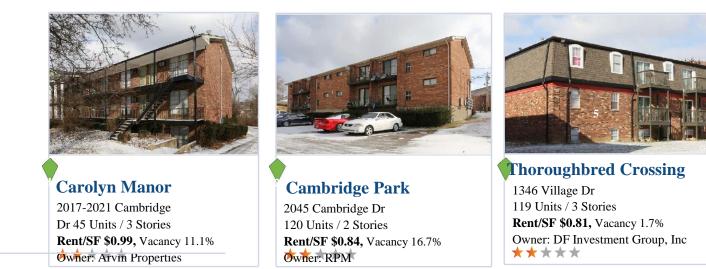

IX. Market Overview

Todd Dexheimer and Venture D through 24 months of research has indicated several markets that appear to have solid investment potential. When looking for the best cities, we looked at the cities with the greatest opportunity for immediate returns as well as future returns. The list of important factors included:

• Unemployment rate that is falling

- Job growth and the type of jobs being added
- Current employers strength and overall economic diversity
- Vacancy rates of the current housing stock and the trend
- Number of units being added to the current supply
- Affordability of rent and housing and how they relate to each other
- City's comprehensive plan

Lexington, KY is the 2nd largest city in Kentucky with a metro population of 588,359 and growing. It is located in the middle of horse country within a 4 hour drive of many large cities, including Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Columbus, Louisville, Nashville, Knoxville and Dayton. Lexington ranks tenth among US cities in college education rate, with 39.5% of residents having at least a bachelor's degree. The Kentucky Horse Park, The Red Mile and Keeneland race courses are located in Lexington, along with several colleges are located within Lexington including: the University of Kentucky, BTCT, Eastern Kentucky University, Kentucky State, National College, Transylvania University, and Bluegrass Community & Technical College.

One of the most exciting things about Lexington is that the city has not seen a decade of decline in population. Most decades in fact have seen double digit growth, which is expected to continue as the area is expecting 3.5% job growth/year over the next 10 years.

Couple that with the Urban Growth Boundary that Lexington has enacted and there is little doubt that the city will see continued growth. The Urban Growth Boundary stops urban sprawl outside of the Lexington MSA. Currently in order to divide a parcel located outside of the MSA a 40 acre minimum is required. The city and county planning commissions have been very slow to increase the boundary, creating need for infill within the boundary.

The Lexington economy has been extremely stable and growing with a strong presence in manufacturing, technology, health care, education and small businesses, benefiting from a diverse, balanced business base. The Lexington MSA currently has an unemployment rate of 3.7%, which is below the national average and below many of the surrounding cities. In 2011 Lexington was ranked as the 4th-best city for "Businesses and Careers" by Forbes magazine, the 5th-best city for Young Professionals in 2008, and 6th-Best "Value Cities" in 2011 by Kiplinger.

The city is the home to four Fortune 500 companies: Xerox, Lexmark International, Lockheed-Martin, and IBM, employing 3,000, 2,800, 1,705, and 552, respectively. UPS, Trane, and Amazon.com, Inc. have large operations in the city, along with Toyota Motor Manufacturing and a JIF peanut butter plant. Many other mid-sized companies call Lexington it's home, including: Link-Belt Construction Equipment, A&W Restaurants, Tempur-Sealy International, Florida Tile, Fazoli's Restaurants, Big Ass Solutions, Forcht Group, First Corbin Bancorp, Kentucky National Insurance Company, BSC and First Lab.

The city's largest employer, the University of Kentucky employs 14,000. The university ranks as the 9th-largest economic company in the state of Kentucky, with an annual budget of $1.4 billion, and the College of Medicine within the university is the 21st-largest company in the state. Along with employment UK currently is seeing a steady growth in school enrollment. Currently, UK's total on-campus dormitory capacity is 7,181 beds, leaving 21,429 students to live off- campus or commute from home/elsewhere in the region. June 2nd 2018, Amazon announced 600 new jobs coming in to Lexington.

Rental occupancy has increased from 92.6% in 2010 to 95.3% in 2016, creating a more stable market, which should allow for continued rent price increases and less concessions. Since 2011 rents have seen a year to year annual increase of approximately 3%.

The number of authorized residential building permits indicate a significant slowdown in residential production in Fayette County. The peak residential production period was in 2004 when permits to build nearly 3,000 units were issued. From the low point of 2011 when permits were issued for just 739 units, residential building has seemed to have rebounded to 1,243 units in 2016 (Figure B-1).

All of this combined leads us to believe that Lexington, KY is a great market to invest in. Adding everything together we should see property values increase steadily over the next 5 years along with high occupancy and increasing rents.

Where is Lexington on its market cycle? At Venture D we feel that Lexington has a minimum of 5 years of growth remaining and likely much longer. This trend will help push rents, which in turn will increase returns and generate more profitable sales pricing.

When looking at the graph below, it is our belief that then market is in the expansion phase II about 1/3 of the way to the top. In the Mid-West these phases usually last between 112-18 years, putting us somewhere between 2022-2027 before the market reaches it's peak level.

Market Cycle Quadrants

Source: Mueller, Real Estate Finance, 1995.

Many markets around the US, especially the primary markets have been experiencing major cap rate suppression, driving down returns for investors and increasing their exposure. Markets such as New York, San Francisco, Seattle, Denver and even Minneapolis are seen record low capitalization rates and record high purchase prices. As rents in many of those markets continue to climb to unsustainable pricing, renters will be forced to either find roommates, move to a cheaper location or buy a house. This in turn will force rents to drop and concessions to start. Once that happens investors that have purchased apartments with low cap rates will be losing money daily. In markets like Lexington we are still experiencing cap rates that are near 6% for B class and 7% for C class, along with some value add properties. The slow and steady growth along with current rent being affordable makes for a market that can sustain future growth.

X. Charity

Todd Dexheimer and his companies take great pride in donating to local charities. My commitment is to donate 5% or more of my profits (not yours, unless you ask us to) to local Lexington area or Twin Cities area charities. We strive to provide financial support to charities that focus on housing needs and financial and employment education for teenagers and adults. Providing for others in the communities that we do business in is an important part of our overall business plan.

XI. Highlights

A few notes on the underwriting that we think bodes well for our success.

- 1. Interest rate for a future loan is at 6%, current rates are seeing mortgages at 4.6-5%
- 2. Current capitalization rates are at 7-7.25% we show an exit at 8%
- 3.Rent growth projections are low, showing 0% between year 1 and 2, only 2% from year 2 to 3 and then 2.5% growth thereafter. This is coupled with a 2% expense increase.
- 4. There is a chance to refinance and pull some money out, this would increase returns, but is not modeled.

XI. Conclusion

The Cambridge Park Apartments provide substantial upside potential for our current and future residents, the community and the city of Lexington. Our approach is simple – provide safe, clean, updated housing that can make our residents and community proud and in return create a positive portfolio that creates a valuable business in order to continue success. With our detailed plan put to action along with proper management and continued improvement and maintenance of the buildings we will achieve success for all of the aforementioned.
